

Elena-Denisa Burada was born in Targu Jiu, Romania, in 1997. She received the Engineering degree and Master degree in electrical engineering from the University of Craiova, Romania, in 2020 and 2022, respectively.

She is currently an Engineer at National Institute for Research, Development and Testing in Electrical Engineering (ICMET Craiova) and the PhD student of Doctoral School of Electrical and Energy Engineering. Her main field of interest includes measurement of partial discharges and radio disturbances at the high voltage equipments.